LIVE STOCK, CROP, ETC.

—One Alabama cotton planter sold his crop this year for about $100,000.

—Jos. A. Wilson sold his crop of 20,000 pounds of tobacco, to Clarence Lebus & Bro., at 12½ cent per pound.

—George W. Wilder sold to George Minton, of Louisville, a thoroughbred filly by G. W. Johnson, dam of Fallsetto, for $300.

—On Tuesday, Horace W. Wilson was elected secretary of the Kentucky Trotting Horse Breeders' Association, at Lexington.

—In Harrison county twenty crops of tobacco, aggregating 175,000 pounds were sold at prices ranging from 8¼ to 13 cts., an average of about ten cents.

—Maysville Ledger: Andrew Howard sold to Sanford Carpenter, of Bourbon, one pair or mules for $400; one pair for $350 and one single mule for $160.

—W. F. Turner sold to the Continental, 12,000 pounds of tobacco, at 10 cents and 200 pounds at 4 cents; Harry Holt and Roy Turner sold to same party, their crops at 10 cents straight.

—At Hutchinson, James Gregg sold a pair of aged mules to Gentry Bros., of Lexington, for $295. John Steele sold to McKenna, of Lexington, 40 fat hogs, average 235 pounds, at $4.75.

—Very little of the hemp crop has been broken out yet, but the recent freezing and thawing will cause the lint to separate easily from the stalk. As soon as the weather permits the crop will be broken out rapidly.—Winchester Democrat.

—Forty years ago the farmers owned 55 per cent. of the wealth of this country, but such has been the advance of manufacturing and railroad building that they now own but 22 per cent, though there has been no decline in agricultural values.

CHICAGO THEATERS.

Exits Must Not Be More Than Twelve Feet Above Surface.

All Playhouses Must Open on at Least
 Two Public Thoroughfares - A Strong Fight Was Made Against This Section.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—The city council
 held an all night session Monday night for the purpose of considering the new theater ordinance. At midnight several sections of the proposed law had been adopted, but there still remained so much to do that a recess was taken until 1 o'clock, when the ordinance was again taken up. At the time of taking the recess it did not seem probable that the ordinance would be adopted before early morning, and an adjournment without final action was among the possibilities. The most important provisions of the ordinance adopted up to the time of the recess
 were as follows:

Fire pumps to be placed on and under the stage, and four axes and six fire hooks to be placed on each floor of the theater.

All theaters must open on at least two public thoroughfares; no theater to be more than 12 feet above the street level; stairway space in each balcony to be at least 20 inches for every 100 seats.

Some of these provisions, notably that requiring that the building shall adjoin at least two public thoroughfares, will compel the reconstruction of several of the leading theaters in the city. A strong fight was made to have this section of the ordinance read
 "One public thoroughfare and one public or private alley," but it was finally defeated.

The provision fixing the maximum height above the street level at 12 feet will practically put two prominent downtown playhouses out of business, and kills off a number of the outlying houses.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The city council
 Tuesday night took action that will,
 in all probability, result in the closing of nearly all of the theaters of Chicago for the remainder of the present theatrical season. Monday night the council passed an ordinance setting forth what must be done by the theaters of this city before they are allowed to remain in continuous operation. It convened Tuesday night to consider the passage of an enabling act that would allow the theaters to operate for the remainder of this season without being compelled to fulfill all the requirements of the ordinance
 as some of the conditions are of a nature that will require the practical reconstruction of some of the playhouses. After a long debate the council decided on the following essentials which the theaters must meet before they will be allowed to reopen their doors: A steel curtain; an automatic sprinkling system; a bond of $25,000 guaranteeing the performance by August 1, 1904, of all the requirements of the ordinance; the widening of doors and exits.

The managers of theaters declared
 Tuesday night that it would be impossible for them to meet the demands of the enabling act in sufficient time to do business during the remainder of this season, and several of them declared that they had no intention of trying to reopen their doors. The manager of one theater declared that he thought he could be in shape by February 1.

THE THEATER FIRE.

An Average of $100 a Day Extracted
 From the Debris.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—The municipal placer mine in the debris removed from the Iroquois theater is panning out better than at first expected. Up to the present an average of over $100 a day has been extracted from the refuse.

As far as possible all articles found are returned to owners, but all loose money, which is impossible to identify, will be applied to the police pension fund.

Another instance of the work of ghouls during the excitement following the Iroquois fire is believed by the police to have been unearthed in a report received Tuesday that the body of Herman O. Dreisel, a teacher in the normal practice school who lost his life, was found to have been robbed.
 When the body of the school principal was found 15 cents was in the pockets of his clothes. He had taken $350 with him on the day that he met his death and had expected to make numerous purchases. The body of his wife was found near him in the ruins, but the ghouls had not dispelled the corpse of the woman.

The police Tuesday arrested Frank Uhler, a printer, 19 years old, on a charge of robbing the dead after the fire in the Iroquois theater. Uhler attempted to dispose of a diamond ring valued at $800, and when taken into custody confessed that he had stolen it from the hand of a dead man who was hanging over the edge of a wagon
 when the load of corpses was backed up in front of the morgue.

National Board of Trade.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The National board of trade met here Tuesday for its 34th annual session with about 75 delegates present, representing approximately 35 commercial organizations in different parts of the country.

Goes to the Methodist Church.

Kenosha, Wis., Jan. 20.—With the exception of a few small legacies, the valuable estate of the late William W.
 Cooper, who lost his life in the Iroquois theater fire, goes to the institutions of the Methodist church.

BIG DISTILLERY FIRE.

The Loss Will Aggregate Over $200,- 000—Firemen Hurt.

Cincinnati, Jan. 20.—Fire broke out in the distillery warehouse of Mihalovvitch, Fletcher & Co., 501 to 505 East Pearl street, Tuesday morning. The fire started in some straw on the third floor. The building was completely gutted, entailing a loss of over $200,000.

An explosion caused one of the walls
 to fall. Joseph Brocklage, of Company No. 5, was cut in the head. Joseph Rigney, of the same fire company, received internal injuries; Chas.
 Burke, Company 14, was bruised. The first floor of the building was occupied by representatives of the following firms: B. T. Fox & Co., Pan-Handle Distilling Co., American Cordial & Distilling Co., of San Francisco,
 Casno & Co., of Cleveland, Mt. Vernon
 Distilling Co., of Covington, and Allen
 Distilling Co., of Chicago.

The owner of the building, J. C. C.
 Breuer, a retired capitalist, and his loss is estimated at $150,000. The Miller, Du Brul & Peters Co., lumber dealers, adjacent, were damaged to the amount of $4,000. Mihalovitch, Fletcher & Co.'s loss on stock is $90,000, fully insured.

COTTON BOLL WEEVIL.

A Campaign Will Be Waged Against
 the Pest.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Secretary Wilson is arranging the details of the campaign authorized by congress to be waged against the cotton boll weevil.
 A number of government entomolo-gists and scientists already are en route to the ravaged Texas fields and to the Sabine river valley in Louisiana, the pest having been reported from three places in that section.
 There will be 30 or 40 scientists at work against the pest before long.
 They will organize the farmers to fight the weevil and will educate them in the best methods of attack. Secretary Wilson expects to make another trip to the districts involved while the fight is on and Mrs. Gallaway and Howard, of the entomological division, will keep in close touch with the situation.

TO CORRECT EVILS.

Bill to Prohibit Use of Mails to Certain Insurance Companies.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senator Dryden Tuesday introduced amendments proposed by the postmaster general to a bill now pending before the committee on post offices and post roads to prohibit the use of the mails by companies transacting fraudulent insurance business. Insurance companies have represented in public hearings conducted by the post office committee and in communications to the postmaster general that the bill drafted
 by the association of state insurance commissioners would interfere with legitimate insurance companies. The amendments are to correct the evils suggested.

ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL.

The Measure Carries a Total of $73,956,000.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The army appropriation bill which was completed by the house committee on military affairs Monday, carries a total of $73,- 956,000. The appropriation for the current year amounts to $74,637,000.
 The estimates on which the bill is based amounted to $77,161,000. The estimate for transportation of soldiers and supplies of $15,500,000 was cut down by $1,000,000. An appropriation of $400,000 is made for a general army hospital in Washington, D. C., and $300,000 is made available for completing the army war college in this city.

NAVAL OFFICERS.

The Government Will Have Enough In 1907 to Mann All Vessels.

Washington, Jan. 20.—According to the testimony of Capt. Bronson, superintendent of the naval academy, before the house committee on naval affairs Tuesday, the United States will have naval officers enough in 1907 to man all naval vessels. There will be an increase in the classes graduating each from the academy. Capt. Bronson declared the practice of hazing in the academy was being eliminated.

The Cabinet Dinner.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The cabinet
 dinner given by Postmaster General and Mrs. Payne Tuesday night was perhaps the largest function of that character ever given in Washington,
 as in addition to the President and Mrs. Roosevelt, there were about 40 additional guests.

Prohibition National Convention.

 man Oliver W. Stewart. The call names Indianapolis as the convention
 city.

Praises Wm. R. Hearst.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 20.—The Bricklayers and Masons International union at its convention adopted a resolution praising William R. Hearst, member of congress and owner of several newspapers, for his championship of organized labor.

Pneumatic Tube Mail Service.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The committee of postal officials which recently investigated the proposed pneumatic tube mail service changes in St. Louis has reported that no action should be taken at this time.

AFFAIRS IN THE EAST.

Russians Claim Korean Soldiers
 Are Causing Trouble.

Japan Will Neither Yield Her Standpoint Nor Accept the Mediation of a Third Power—China Will Maintain Neutrality.

Seoul, Jan. 20.—Russia complains that Korean soldiers are causing trouble. Corea answers that Russia must not interfere.

The tension in Seoul is increasing and the native press, which probably is inspired, is more bitter against foreigners than formerly. The emperor's trusted advisers have a daily council.
 The Russian and English legations have increased their guards by 16.
 The Japanese are buying and storing much rice in Northern Corea. The ginseng trade is dead.

The Korean general, Yihak Kiun, whose sympathies are pro-Russian,
 has made a veiled threat against foreigners.

The Peking correspondent of the Times declares in a dispatch that Japan's latest note is stronger in tone than the preceding one, and that she will neither yield her moderate standpoint nor accept the mediation of a third power. Not only to the Japanese, but to the American and British ministers, the correspondent continues, has China given satisfactory assurances of her intention to maintain strict neutrality in accordance with Lord Lansdowne's advice.

The German newspapers Tuesday morning appear to be paving the way to explain the Russian retreat in the negotiations with Japan, and in all the capitals of Europe, opinion now inclines to a peaceful issue in the far east.

PANAMA UNPLEASANTNESS.

Minister Beaupre Says It Will Be Amicably Settled.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Arthur M. Beaupre, United States minister to Colombia, said Tuesday that there would be no war between the United States and that country, but that the little Panama unpleasantness would be amicably arranged.

Mr. Beaupre arrived in Chicago from Washington and at once went to the residence of his sister-in-law, Mrs.
 T. D. Micken, in Lakeview. Speaking about Colombian affairs Mr. Beaupre said:

"I do not want to say anything about the feeling in Colombia at the present time. I will say this: I do not believe there will be any war. Matters are going to be amicably arranged and we will unquestionably have the Panama canal. Everything will be peaceful."

HOME-SEEKERS.

Fully 12,000 Will Start For the South and West Wednesday.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Traffic officials estimate that fully 12,000 home-seekers will start Wednesday for points in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.
 The movement is one of the largest of the kind in the history of the effort which the railroads are making to colonize the southwest. From Chicago and Illinois points fully 800 home-seekers will go out on special trains, and it is estimated that at least 12,000
 persons, taking advantage of the special rates, will pass through Kansas
 City.

Counterfeit Money.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—Measures to check the circulation of counterfeit money were taken Tuesday at the annual meeting of the Chicago Clearing House association, a resolution being passed requesting the banks in the city to mark all counterfeit money presented. Similar action is being taken by clearing house associations throughout the country in response to a recommendation of the secretary of the treasury.

Will Maintain the Blockade.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The state department is informed by Mr. Powell, charge d'affaires to the Dominican republic, of the intention of the authorities in control at San Domingo city to maintain a blockade of all the other ports of the republic, to become effective for vessels from the United States February 1.

Mess Beef For the Russians.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 20.—Fifty-one cars of extra mess beef for the Russian army will roll into San Francisco January 27 and will be loaded on a transport which will leave February 2.
 The meat was packed in specially built casks.

The Amended Panama Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 20.—The Panama treaty as amended by the committee on foreign relations was read in executive session of the senate Tuesday. No discussion was had and it was announced that debate on the treaty will begin Wednesday.

Carter Knocked Out Choyinski.

Boston, Jan. 20.—Kid Carter, of Brooklyn, knocked out Joe Choyinski, of Chicago, after two minutes of fighting in the first round before the Criterion Athletic club. Choyinski had the better of the round up to the knockout.

Death of John N. Drummond.

Chicago, Jan. 20.—John N. Drummond, former vice president of the Wabash railroad, died of paralysis at a hotel here Tuesday. Mr. Drummond was born in Bristol, Me., March 26, 1828.

Miss Gannon, Sec'y Detroit Amateur

Art Association, tells young women what to do to avoid pain and suffering caused by female troubles.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I can conscientiously recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to those of my sisters suffering with female weakness and the troubles which so often befall women. I suffered for months with general weakness, and felt so weary that I had hard work to keep up. I had shooting pains, and was utterly miserable. In my distress I was advised to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it was a red letter day to me when I took the first dose, for at that time my restoration began. In six weeks I was a changed woman, perfectly well in every respect. I felt so elated and happy that I want all women who suffer to get well as I did."—Miss GUILA GANNON, 359 Jones St., Detroit, Mich., Secretary Amateur Art Association.

It is clearly shown in this young lady's letter that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will certainly cure the sufferings of women; and when one considers that Miss Gannon's letter is only one of the countless hundreds which we are continually publishing in the newspapers of this country, the great virtue of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine must be admitted by all; and for the absolute cure of all kinds of female ills no substitute can possibly take its place. Women should bear this important fact in mind when they go into a drug store, and be sure not to accept anything that is claimed to be "just as good" as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for no other medicine for female ills has made so many actual cures.

How Another Sufferer Was Cured.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I cannot praise your wonderful remedies enough, for they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. For the last eight years and more I suffered with female troubles, was very weak, could not do my housework, also had nervous prostration. Some days I would remain unconscious for a whole day and night. My neighbors thought I could never recover, but, thanks to your medicine, I now feel like a different woman."

"I feel very grateful to you and will recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all. It has now been four years since I had the last spell of nervous prostration. I only weighed ninety-eight pounds at that time; now I weigh one hundred and twenty-three. I consider your Vegetable Compound the finest remedy made. Thanking you many times for the benefit I received from your medicine, I remain, Yours truly, Mrs. J. H. FARMER, 2809 Elliott Ave., St. Louis, Mo."

Remember Mrs. Pinkham's advice is free and all sick women are foolish if they do not ask for it. She speaks from the widest experience, and has helped multitudes of women.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

BY A DEFECTIVE WIRE.

Destructive Fire in a Steel Tube Company's Plant.

Product of the Entire Mill For the Past Six Months Destroyed Within an Hour, Entailing a Loss of $3,000,000.

Shelby, O., Jan. 21.—The United States steel corporation stock sustained a $3,000,000 loss by fire Wednesday night at the plant of the Shelby Steel Tube Co. The fire started in one of the smaller rooms from a defective electric wire and spread to the larger stock room, completely destroying all of them. The product of the entire plant for the past six months was destroyed within an hour, consisting of 800,000 tons, making in all 25,000,000 feet of finished product and valued at $3,000,000.

The fire broke out at 9 o'clock, and at 10 o'clock the immense buildings fell in with a crash, which could be heard distinctly for miles from the city. Battered and twisted, the finished product lies in a heap and is almost a total loss. Tube works officials state that a portion can be worked over, but it will require the entire capacity of the plant and will delay the mills on other orders. The stock consisted mostly of locomotive boiler flues and other government work of various kinds. The fire was confined to the stock buildings, which were built at an expense of $100,000.

The tubing manufactured by the Shelby plant was used extensively by the government for boiler flues in United States war vessels.

The demand of the government alone is sufficient to keep a good-sized plant running continuously the year round. The United States government has been the best customer of the local plant. The plant was erected in 1890, and has made gigantic strides forward until to-day it covers nearly ten acres of ground.

FREIGHT TRAINS COLLIDE.

Ten Cars of Coal, Coke and Beef Destroyed By Fire.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 21.—An east-bound freight train early Thursday morning collided head-on with a west-bound freight at the Horseshoe curve on the Pennsylvania railroad and as a result two engines, a cab and 11 cars were wrecked. The wreckage at once took fire and burned fiercely. A hurry call was sent to this city and a fire engine of the city department has gone to the scene. Before they could get the fire under control ten cars of coal, coke and beef were destroyed. The trainmen all escaped injury.

DR. JEKYL AND MR. HYDE.

Ticket Broker By Day and Receiver of Stolen Property at Night.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—A prosperous ticket broker in a fashionable hotel by day and a general receiver of stolen property by night is the character given by the police to Charles F. Stout, who has for some time conducted a ticket broker's office in the Kaiserhof hotel. Stout was arrested on the confession of a burglar, who declares that he sold his stolen property to him, but did not receive its value. The broker was held in bonds of $9,000.

SMITHSON'S REMAINS.

They Arrived at New York on the Steamer Prinzess Irene.

New York, Jan. 21.—The body of John Smithson, the founder of the Smithsonian institute at Washington, who died in Genoa in 1829, arrived Wednesday night on the steamer Prinzess Irene. The body was accompanied by Prof. Alexander Graham Bell, of the Smithsonian institute, and Mrs. Bell who went to Italy for this purpose. The body will be taken to Washington on the United States dispatch boat Dolphin Thursday.

THE PORTO RICAN REGIMENT.

It Could Be Made Available For Service on the Isthmus.

San Juan, P. R., Jan. 21.—The Porto Rican regiment would be available for service on the isthmus should occasion require. The enlistments of the men expire June 30, but a poll has been taken which shows that 95 per cent. of them are willing and the majority of them are anxious to re-enlist for service in Panama. These troops are by birth and training used to the tropics and there is a movement on foot here to appeal to Washington not to disband them.

Experiment With Radium.

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—A series of experiments with radium, starting in their scope, has been undertaken at the University of California. An attempt will probably be made to turn the skin of the Negro white.

Lincoln's Birthday Celebration.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—Lincoln's birthday will be celebrated by the Marquette club by a banquet on February 12. Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, Congressman Henry S. Boutell and Congressman Robert G. Cousins, of Iowa, will be the speakers.

Gold Corporation Bonds.

New York, Jan. 21.—Controller Groat opened bids for $10,000,000 3½ per cent. gold corporation bonds. The total amount of the bids received was $37,227,810 and the average price of the bonds awarded was 100.23.

PANAMA CONSTITUTION.

A Draft of the Document Has Been Made.

Panama, Jan. 21.—The constitutional convention met Wednesday and approved on the first debate a draft of a constitution which contains the following principal points:

The abolition of business monopolies in the republic; the infliction of the death penalty for political crimes; the abolition of the army and the establishment of an efficient police force; the fact that the majority of Isthmians are of the Roman Catholic faith is recognized, but church and state are separated; all citizens with the exception of members of any military body which may be established shall have the right to vote; the press shall be free; the president's term of office shall be four years; there are to be two sub-vice presidents, one from the liberal and one from the conservative party, and they shall serve for two years; the judiciary is to be elected by congress.

That part of the draft which refers to territorial boundaries delimits the canal zone as specified in the Hay-Bunau-Varilla treaty and this is believed indirectly to approve the treaty.

It has been agreed among the members of the convention to approve a bill ratifying all the acts of the provisional government; this will do away with the necessity of a separate bill proposing the ratification by the convention of the act whereby the junta ratified the Hay-Bunau Varilla treaty.

STEAMPIPE EXPLODED.

A Large Number of Workmen Were Killed and Injured.

Johnstown, Pa., Jan. 21.—An immense steampipe directly over the engine in the boiler room of No. 2 mill of the Cambria Steel Co. exploded about 1:30 Thursday morning bringing down the whole section of roof running from the puddling mill to the finishing shed of the mill. The woodwork at once took fire from the furnaces and at this time is burning fiercely. It is known that at least two or three men are under the debris and it is not believed that these can be rescued in time to save their lives.

About 15 men have been taken out and have been either sent to the hospital or are lying on improvised cots in offices nearby. It is impossible at present to learn the extent of their injuries, but it is known that several are in a critical condition. Added to the fire and explosion disaster, a large water pipe burst and is flooding the grounds about the scene of the accident. One man caught in the debris is in plain sight, but can not be rescued owing to the intensity of the heat. It is probable that not one of the men penned in can escape death either by drowning or fire. The accident occurred between a turn and a great many men were seated in the mill.

At 2 o'clock the number of dead was estimated at from 12 to 14 men. The injured will number 25 or more, many of whom are terribly scalded and can not live. Two bodies have been recovered. The injured are being hurried as rapidly as possible to hospitals.

HIGH RATE OF SPEED.

Effort to Be Made to Equal or Break the German Record.

Schneetady, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Plans to equal, and possibly beat, the speed record of 120 miles an hour, made at Prosser, Germany, some time ago, were made Wednesday at a conference between officials and experts representing the New York Central railroad and the General Electric Co. The tests are to be made on the tracks between this city and Hoffmans. If present plans hold, the Central will thus be enabled to run trains through New York city and on its suburban lines at an unparalleled rate of speed.

SUIT AGAINST DOWIE.

San Francisco Insurance Agent Wants to Recover $962.

San Francisco, Jan. 21.—Hugh Craig, insurance agent and ex-president of the chamber of commerce, appealed to the courts Wednesday to recover $962 from John Alexander Dowie. Mr. Craig in his petition claims that 12 years ago the ruler of Zion borrowed $2,772 from him. All of it was returned except the amount sued for, and that, it is alleged, Dowie refused to pay. Dowie had planned to sail for Sydney Thursday on the steamer Sonoma.

Team Owners' Convention.

South Bend, Ind., Jan. 21.—The International Team Owners' union finished its convention Wednesday. Several changes were made in the constitution and by-laws, under which the union will work during the coming year. The following officers were elected: J. S. Church, Ashtabula, O., president; John Fogarty, Minneapolis, Minn., vice president; John M. Clarke, Toledo, O., secretary and treasurer; P. O. Randolph, Piqua, O., George E. Knapp, Mansfield, O., and Fitch Mitchell, Linton, Ind., trustees. The joint convention will be held at Toledo, O., next year.

Unions to Amalgamate.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 21.—The executive committees of the Brotherhood of Railway Car Men and the International Association of Car Workers are in session here to discuss plans for the amalgamation of the two national organizations.

Verdi's Birthplace to Be Sold.

Rome, Jan. 21.—The house in which Verdi was born, which is situated at Busseto, near Palm, is to be sold soon at public auction. The house is the property of the Marquis Pallavicino, who was once very wealthy.

THE SHIP SUBSIDY BILL

Chairman Grosvenor Makes Report to the House.

Out of Almost a Billion Dollars Worth of Exports to Europe Only a Small Per Cent. Carried by American Vessels.

Washington, Jan. 21.—In his report to the house, filed Wednesday, in favor of the bill authorizing a commission to consider the question of ship subsidy, Representative Grosvenor, chairman of the committee on merchant marine fisheries, says:

"We flatter ourselves justly that we are a leading nation in all that makes a nation great, and yet we are a subservient nation and a helpless nation in one of the great factors of national wealth and national independence. Other nations carry our products to the markets of the world."

Gen. Grosvenor says that of almost a billion dollars worth of exports to Europe during the fiscal year 1902 only one and three-quarters per cent. was carried in American vessels. Of nearly $500,000,000 of imports during that year American ships carried only $30,000,000 worth. He says that had it not been for the American line subsidized by postal subsidy the total of our trade with Europe carried under the American flag would have exceeded one-sixth per cent. For the carrying of that trade Gen. Grosvenor says we paid $200,000,000, which amount he maintains should have gone into the pockets of Americans.

The minority members of the committee have designated Representative Lucking, of Michigan, to present their views. These will contain the following reasons why the bill should not pass:

"We are opposed to congress abdicate its functions in favor of any commission whatever. The history of such commissions shows that almost invariably their work has been useless and expensive and has come to naught. We are utterly opposed to ship bounties and have reason to believe that the adoption of such a policy is the real aim of the bill. We are in favor of the rehabilitation of our merchant marine by effective measures to be enacted at the present session of congress."

"We favor immediate action by this committee in the way of investigation and hearings and then the bringing in by this committee of a bill putting in force substantially the system of discriminating tonnage and import duties which was enacted by the early congresses of the United States and which resulted in the immediate and permanent upbuilding of our merchant marine. This system has the prestige of successful experience which can not be said for any other while the subsidy plan has been substantially a failure both at home and abroad."

"The policy of discriminating duties was inaugurated by Jefferson and Madison and Monroe and it received the endorsement of the republican national convention of 1896, of William McKinley and of William P. Frye, now president of the senate, and may, therefore, be justly dominated non-partisan and strictly American."

TO ESTABLISH A COLONY.

Seven Thousand Acres of Land Purchased Near Mobile, Ala.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Seven thousand acres of land, situated in Washington county, Alabama, 35 miles from Mobile, on the main line of the Southern railway, has been purchased for colonization purposes. The tract will be subdivided into small farms and sold to alien farmers. The heads of 65 families already have reached the property and commenced the erection of buildings. Farms will be opened up at once. The settlers will engage in general farming, the growing of fruits and vegetables. From reports already received, the indications are that fully 1,000 colonists will settle in Washington during the current year.

THE GERMAN EXHIBIT.

An Additional Appropriation of $50,000 Was Approved.

Berlin, Jan. 21.—The budget committee of the reichstag Wednesday approved the additional appropriation of $50,000 for the German exhibit at the St. Louis exposition, making a total of $875,000. The Prussian finance minister included $40,000 more for the exhibit of Prussia at St. Louis, or a total of $125,000, in the budget just submitted to the diet. The Prussian appropriations are largely for the educational exhibit. The imperial appropriations will generally broaden out Germany's representation.

American Are Leaving Seoul.

Seoul, Jan. 21.—The emperor of Corea has ordered that 700 revolvers and clubs be distributed to the "Peditors," who are nominally secret police and a dangerous element. Many Americans are leaving Seoul fearing trouble.

Alleged Heiress Arrested.

Mobile, Ala., Jan. 21.—Ethel Rovel, the young woman from Meridian, alleged to be heiress to several millions of property and cash left by an uncle, was arrested in this city Wednesday on the charge of being "dangerous and suspicious."

Will Receive Increased Wages.

Chicago, Jan. 21.—An agreement was reached Wednesday between box-makers and sawyers and the box manufacturers under which 2,000 workmen in Chicago will receive a five per cent. increase in wages.

FIFTY-EIGHTH CONGRESS.

Regular Session.

Washington, Jan. 16.—Senate—Friday's session of the senate began with the passage of a number of bills on the calendar and closed in like manner. The intervening time was given over to a speech by Mr. Teller on the Panama canal question, Mr. Teller contending that the course of the president in connection with the recent revolt of Panama had been contrary to precedent and in contravention of international law.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Senate—The post office inquiry resolution and the Panama canal question divided the attention of the senate Monday. The first half of the session was given up to the inquiry, Messrs. Hale and Gorman being the speakers. Mr. Hale made a plea for the reference of all postal investigations resolutions to the committee on post offices and Mr. Gorman repeated his assurance that he would be satisfied with that disposal of the question. The question went over until Tuesday with the understanding that after a few more speeches the resolution would be allowed to go to committee. The discussion of the Panama canal question was confined to the continuation of Mr. Teller's argument that the course of the United States in the recent revolt of Panama was contrary to international law and sound morals.

House—The house devoted a brief session to District of Columbia business. While in committee of the whole on one bill the post office scandal was discussed, Mr. Bartlett (Ga.) introducing a letter from M. W. Louis, who felt aggrieved at certain statements in the Bristow report. Mr. Cowherd (Mo.) pointed out that Louis was irregularly appointed just in time to let a contract that cost the government $10,000 than was necessary.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Senate—The senate resumed less than a minute Tuesday to dispose of the motion to refer to the committee on post offices the various resolutions looking to an investigation of the post office department. The question had been previously debated for hours at a time, but Tuesday no senator manifested any disposition to discuss it further and it was adopted without negative vote. After the passage of a half dozen bills the senate returned to consideration of the Panama question. Mr. Quarles spoke for almost two hours in support of the course of the administration and was followed by Mr. Patterson, who criticized the president's course in Panama.

House—The house considered the Hepburn pure food bill, but did not complete it. When the house was ready to adjourn on motion of Mr. Hepburn a recess was taken until 11:55 Wednesday. This course will retain the bill before the house without interruption for consideration Wednesday. Just before the recess an amendment coming from the democratic side was adopted inserting the word "willfully" relative to the sale of prohibited adulterated goods by retailers, which would make it incumbent on the government to prove knowledge on the part of the retailers that such goods was contrary to law.

Washington, Jan. 21.—Senate—Mr. Patterson Wednesday completed and Mr. Platt (Ct.) began a speech on the Panama canal question. Mr. Patterson declared that the president was largely responsible for the revolt in Panama, and announced his decided preference for the Nicaraguan route. Mr. Platt took this pronouncement for Nicaragua as the text for his remarks, saying it explained the mystery of the otherwise unexplainable opposition on the part of the democratic senators of the Panama treaty.

House—The house passed the Hepburn pure food bill on a rising vote, 201 to 68, its opponents being unable to secure a roll call on the bill. The amendment of inserting the word "willful" with reference to the persons who sell adulterated or misbranded goods, and which would have compelled the government to prove intent to violate the law by the vendors was stricken out on a ye and nay vote in the house. Several attempts were made to amend the bill, but no material changes were made. The bill fixes the standards of foods and drugs as to their purity, strength and character and defines what shall be considered adulterations or misbranding of foods and drugs. It also prohibits interstate commerce, importation and exportation, of such misbranded or adulterated articles. It is proposed to enlarge the scope of the bureau of chemistry to include the bureau of foods and impose upon it the duty of performing all chemical work for the other executive departments. This bureau will be charged with the duty of inspecting food and drug products which belong to interstate or foreign commerce. The secretary of agriculture is given authority to employ such chemists, inspectors, clerks and laborers as may be necessary for the enforcement of the act. One section of the bill provides penalties for the introduction of adulterated or misbranded foods or drugs and another section requires the secretary of agriculture to prescribe rules and regulations to govern the director of the bureau of chemistry and foods in examinations of articles required to be inspected under the law. Violations of the law shall be reported by the secretary of agriculture to the proper district attorney of the United States, who is to direct the cause, the proceedings to be prosecuted without delay.

It is estimated that the Chicago theaters will be obliged to spend $500,000 in repairs under the new ordinance passed by the Chicago City Council. It is probable the price of seats will be raised.

THE Republican National Convention will be held at Chicago, June 21, and the Democratic Convention at St. Louis, July 6. The next President of the United States will be nominated at the latter convention, if good judgment and conservatism shall prevail.

Now that I. H. S. Sheldon has reached the point where he can juggle three horses, shoes, and a butcher knife at the same time in the pulpit, nothing short of the Bosco will be required of Dr. Barkhurst if he is to retain his proud eminence as a laborer in the Lord's vineyard.

Good Spirits.

Good spirits don't all come from Kentucky. Their main source is the liver—and all the fine spirits ever made in the Blue Grass State could not remedy a bad liver or the hundred and one ill effects it produces. You can't have good spirits and a bad liver at the same time. Your liver must be in fine condition if you would feel buoyant, happy and hopeful, bright of eye, light of step, vigorous and successful in your pursuits. You can put your liver in fine condition by using Green's August Flower—the greatest of all medicines for the liver and stomach and a certain cure for dyspepsia or indigestion. It has been a favorite household remedy for over thirty-five years. August Flower will make your liver healthy and active and thus insure you a liberal supply of "good spirits." Trial size, 25c; regular bottles, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks.

NATURE'S OWN CURE.

Hyomei Cures Catarrh Without Dangerous Drugging of the Stomach.

Not until Hyomei was discovered has it been possible to truthfully say that a remedy for catarrh was known.

This remedy is breathed through the Hyomei inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and during that time every particle of air taken into the air passages and lungs is impregnated with the germ killing and health giving Hyomei. It is the only treatment that cures catarrh.

Stomach drugging often causes disordered digestion or brings on some other diseases and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hyomei not only kills the germs in the throat and nose but penetrates to the minutest air cells in the lungs and enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, it frees the mucous membrane from poisonous microbes and gives perfect health.

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks treatment.

Clark & Co., have so much faith in the merit of Hyomei that they agree to return the money to any purchaser who may be dissatisfied.

PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY
SWIFT CHAMP, EDITOR AND OWNER.

DRESS GOODS AT COST.—A $2,000-stock of dress goods—going strictly at cost.
22-21 FREEMAN & FREEMAN.

RECITAL.—Miss Winn and pupils will give a recital at the Bourbon College, this evening, at 8 o'clock. The public is cordially invited.

WANTED.—Poultry and Eggs in any quantity.
J. HARRISON DAVIS.
Phone 433.

MOVED HERE.—The Winchester Sentinel, says: V. Alexander, formerly with the Winchester Power Laundry, has gone to Paris to have charge of a laundry there.

FOR RENT.—My residence on Duncun avenue.
22-21 MRS. A. P. ALLIS.

INTEREST PURCHASED.—Mr. Sam Worthington, of Mason county, has purchased a half interest in the Templin Lumber Co. Mr. E. Stamler, the architect, has accepted a position with the new firm.

BANANAS.—I have a fine lot of bananas at 15 and 20 cents per dozen.
J. E. CRAVEN.

AWFUL STREETS.—The streets of the city are in an awful fix. A wagon stuck in the mud on South Main street and had to remain there all night. A little attention given the streets once in a while would not be a bad thing.

WANTED.—An experienced huckster; single man preferred. Apply to J. HARRISON DAVIS, Grocer.

ATTEND FUNERAL.—Quite a number of Paris people will attend the funeral of Mr. Philip Cummins, near Carlisle, to-day. Mr. Cummins had been ill but ten days and died as a result of a general breaking down from the infirmities of age.

ALLOWED PENSION.—A colored woman named Lettie Morton, living at Hutchison, has been allowed $12 per month and $2 per month for each of her three children. The pension began in September, 1902, and she received about $305 back pay.

ATTENTION, LADIES.—Don't fail to attend our closing-out sale before the stock is broken. See ad. on page 4.
22-21 FREEMAN & FREEMAN.

FORTUNE FOR HIS LIQUOR.—An exchange says: A barrel of whisky was the price Col. E. F. Clay gave for Fancy Jane. She through Miss Woodford and the Bourbon breeder thus got a fortune for his liquor. He also got Mercedes out from between the shafts of Wickliffe Preston's buggy and her produce brought to Runnymede $50,000.

LAUNDRY AGENT.—I have taken the agency for the Lexington Steam Laundry, and will appreciate any favors from my friends in the way of their patronage in this line. Phone 257.
22-21 JAS. ARKLE.

OPINION DELIVERED.—In the Court of Appeals, Wednesday, Sparks vs. Deposit Bank, of Paris, Harrison; extended opinion delivered, judgment of affirmance set aside, rehearing granted, and the judgment of the Circuit Court reversed, as indicated in the extended opinion, and in other respects, the petition is over-ruled, whole court sitting, Judge Hobson dissenting.

PHONE 257.—I have accepted the agency of the Lexington Steam Laundry. Orders telephoned to 257 will receive prompt attention. Work called for and delivered.
22-21 JAS. ARKLE.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.—The Mt. Sterling Gazette says that on last Monday, Claude Weathers, a son of Clay Weathers, of Flat Rock, Bourbon county, bought goods from several merchants in that city, giving checks which proved worthless. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he was jailed. Weathers belongs to an excellent family and his downfall is attributed to cigarette smoking.

STRAYED.—From my premises, on the 19th inst., a Jersey Cow. Has been dehorned and is a light squirrel-gray color. Any information regarding same, will be thankfully received by
W. A. JOHNSON.

A REQUEST.—The women of the "Civic League" ask the citizens individually, to assist them and the city fathers in their work. Without their co-operation, they can do little for the improvement of the town or the comfort of the people. If each person would keep the sidewalk in front of his store and dwelling thoroughly cleaned from snow and dust, the man who has heretofore expectorated so freely, would hesitate to spit upon the cleanly-swept sidewalk, as he would upon his wife's carpet.

RETURNED.—Henry T. Muir, whose sudden disappearance from Lexington, last November, caused much comment, has returned to that city, and is now at the Good Samaritan Hospital. He has been at El Paso, Texas, and Phoenix, Arizona, and says that there was no cause for uneasiness in regard to his absence. He will be able to leave the hospital soon.

Meeting of Richard Hawes Chapter.

The Richard Hawes Chapter was entertained by the president, Mrs. C. M. Thomas, on Tuesday, Jan. 19. This is a day set apart and observed with a special program wherever a chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy exists throughout the United States, the birthday of General Robert Edward Lee.

As the death of another beloved Confederate General occurred so near this time, this meeting was made a double memorial in memory of Gen. Lee and Gen. John B. Gordon.

Dr. Rutherford opened the services by offering a beautiful prayer, after which he made a few appropriate and very interesting remarks upon the Christian lives of those two renowned Generals, and told of his personal intercourse with each and the wonderful and lofty impressions made by them.

Mrs. Sam Willis read an article written by a near comrade of Gen. Gordon, which gave an insight of the character of the man, as well as the soldier.

Miss Kate Ingels gave a beautiful poem by Henry T. Stanton, written upon hearing of the death of R. E. Lee.

"Dixie" was sung by the chapter, after which Miss Anna Lee Washington so sweetly sang, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia."

A tribute to Gen. Lee, by a Union soldier, in which he acknowledges him to have been the peer of all the great generals before and during his time, was read by Mrs. J. T. Vansant.

Miss Edgar read a piece from the daily paper on the death of Gen. Gordon, and the following resolutions were adopted and the Secretary requested to send a copy to Mrs. Gordon:

Over the bier of Gen. John B. Gordon, not only does grief-stricken Georgia bow in reverence, but every other Southern State, and very many friends in Northern State.

By way of expressing the sorrow of the Richard Hawes Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, we offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That in the death of Gen. John B. Gordon, the last Lieut.-General of our Confederate cause, the South loses one of her most noted citizens—the Commander-in-Chief of our Confederate Veterans—whose one word "Comrades," could always still a tumult and thrill the heart of each gray-haired soldier.

Resolved, That in his life since the war he has shown, much as did our peerless leader, Gen. Robert E. Lee, even more courage and patriotism than could be shown in active warfare, since patient endurance and moderation in defeat, require the greatest moral courage.

Resolved, That the Christian religion thus found a worthy exponent in the Christian soldier, and an example that should lead the survivors of the Southern cause to follow him Heavenward as intrepidly as many followed him to the cannon's mouth.

Resolved, That these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Chapter as a memorial of the departed hero.

After the program, dainty refreshments were served and a social half-hour spent.

The Legislature.

At Frankfort, Wednesday, the Kentucky House passed the bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the erection of a new Capitol building at Frankfort, the vote having been 91 to 1. The measure will be passed at once by the Senate. The House also passed the Bradley Registration Bill. A bill for the erection of a county of Beckham was passed in the Senate. A number of other bills were introduced.

The joint Democratic caucus at Frankfort adopted the Cantrill School Book Bill with a number of amendments, none of which, however, will affect the fundamental scheme of the measure.

It is probable that the Legislature will pass some legislation to establish a uniform rate for telephone service.

The insurance men of the State are worked up over the prospect of the introduction of numerous bills affecting the companies.

In the House the resolution providing for a visit to the charitable institutions of the State by the Committee on Charitable Institutions, carried by unanimous vote.

PEANUTS.—Fresh roasted Peanuts always on hand.

A Lost Revenge

By JAMES BUCKHAM

(Copyright, 1904, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

A GREAT, lone rock rises like a miniature Gothic castle in the center of a Nova Scotian "barren." All about it sweeps the wide waste of marsh, carpeted with gray moss and bristling with stunted, wiry hard-hack. Off to the eastward, barely visible through encircling brush and reeds, gleams a shallow lake, like a silver platter lost in the grass. Desolation everywhere—desolation, solitude and silence.

A gray October sky was lowering over the barren when my guide and I entered it, coming suddenly out of the dark, thick woods. The sun was just going down in a bank of copper-colored mist on the distant horizon's edge. The solitary rock looming before us was the only object that broke the wide, monotonous expanse of the plain. "That," said my guide, "is Peter Pardeau's calling-rock. Many was the moose Peter called up and shot from there. And once, they say, he shot a white moose. I'll tell you the story in camp, to-night."

We trilled across the barren in a thread of a path through brush and moss—a path that none but a guide's eye could follow in the gathering twilight—and, skirting the northern end of the little lake, struck timber again, climbed a knoll, and came to a trim, peeled-log camp, with the quaint sign over its door—"What Cheer?" Good cheer it meant for us, that night, wet and weary and hungry as we were from a 12-mile walk through the pathless forest. The tight little stove glowed red-hot; the freshly cut balsam "browns" in the bunks gave forth its delicious aroma; the moose-steak from the pack simmered in the spider, and from the coffee-pot rose that fragrant steam which every camper associates with the feasts of the outdoor gods.

After supper came the pipes and the guide's story of Peter and the white moose, which, for the reader's sake, I must tell in fewer words than the guide used, as he leaned back against the logs, blowing long clouds of smoke across the stove.

Peter Pardeau, when he was a young man—so said the guide—loved a girl of his own Arcadian village, a wisp of white cottages nestling by the shore of St. Mary's Bay. Both young people were descendants of the old French settlers of the province, whose romantic story has been so beautifully told by Longfellow in "Evangeline." But Peter was not the only one of fair Theresa's lovers, for she was the most winsome girl in all the parish; and among the other suitors was a handsome, dashing, unscrupulous courier de bois, Gaspard Langlois, by name, who vowed he would marry the maiden if he had to carry her away by force. This imposing fellow was Peter's only real rival, for, while she cared nothing for her other suitors, it was plain to be seen that Theresa admired Gaspard greatly, and was in danger of losing her heart to him in spite of the affection which had been growing up between herself and Peter since their childhood.

Peter's love affair was at this critical pass when he was suddenly called away to the states by the death of his father, who had gone to Boston with a cargo of fish, and caught a fever while lying in port there. During Peter's absence on the sad mission of bringing home his father's body for burial Gaspard succeeded in persuading Theresa to run away with him to Quebec, where they were secretly married. Gaspard, as it afterwards appeared, had poisoned Theresa's mind by certain evil stories about Peter, which, though false in every particular, had caused the foolish girl to believe her lover untrue to her. In a moment of bitter anger, jealousy and disappointment she had consented to desert Peter by eloping with his rival. All this Peter learned after it was too late to right the wrong done him. Gaspard and Theresa had disappeared; nor did they ever afterward return together to the village that had been Theresa's home. Of his sweetheart's fate Peter could learn nothing. She had utterly vanished out of his life. But her memory did not die, and as long as he lived the wronged lover vowed that he would revenge himself upon the hated Gaspard Langlois, if ever fate threw the chance in his way.

For many years, Peter Pardeau, exiled by a broken heart, lived the life of a forest hermit. His fame as a hunter spread far and wide. There was no one who could equal him in calling up the lordly bull moose in rutting time; none who could follow the trail of moose or bear or caribou so unerringly; none who could shoot a rifle or read the signs of the woods with such mastery skill.

It was not long before Peter Pardeau first began to use the great castle-like boulder in the barren beyond Lost Lake for a "calling rock." The shores of the lake were a favorite feeding ground for moose, and their trails led here and there across the great barren; but only Peter could call the wary bulls within shooting distance of the forbidding rock in the marsh. There was none like it, none so seductive, even among their own kind!

One early October evening, gray, still, foreboding—Peter lay behind the cleft of the big rock, waiting for moose. For a long time the wild sound floated away over the marsh and across the little lake without an answer. Then came a distant bellow, which gradually drew nearer and nearer, as Peter enticed the old bull with his deftly-plied birch-bark horn. At length the great creature emerged into the marsh, and, as it came on Peter, peering bareheaded over his rampart of rock, saw with a thrill that set even his heart throbbing that it was a snow-white bull—the famous albino moose of the Barrio woods, the subject of many a startling camp-fire tale. To shoot the almost fabled albino moose would crown Peter's fame as a hunter and give him a name that would long survive in the traditions of the province. And this was, probably, the only chance he would ever have to perform such a feat.

The man fairly trembled with excitement as he pushed his long, old-fashioned rifle through a cleft in the rock and made ready to fire the shot of his life. The white moose was coming straight toward the rock where the hunter lay concealed. Peter crouched behind the rampart and, sweeping his horn low and close to the surface of the rock, gave one more muffled and seemingly retreating call.

As he slowly lifted head and eyes into the cleft once more he was amazed to see just emerging into the barren, beyond the big rock, the figure of a man. The newcomer was unarmed, save for an ax, and he carried a peddler's pack on his back. As he came in sight of the moose he stopped short and half turned, as if to flee. This brought his face directly toward Peter's hiding place—and instantly the hunter recognized him, in spite of the ravages of time, as the same Gaspard Langlois who had robbed him of his youthful sweetheart! Poor, degraded, and now, no doubt, alone in the world, fallen from his dashing splendor of voyager and man of the city, how hardly, after all, had fate dealt with Theresa's successful suitor! Yet he was the same Gaspard Langlois, the man who had spoiled two lives, and destiny had at last cast him into Peter's hand.

The white moose advanced a few steps further and stopped, confronting the man who had suddenly emerged from behind the rock. Both seemed spellbound. Both were now within range of the deadly rifle of Peter Pardeau—the famous old rifle that had slain so many moose and caribou and bear! The long barrel shook in the crevice with a faint rattling sound. Peter turned it first on the man, and then back again on the moose. A fierce red spot blazed on each of the man's cheeks. His hands trembled like two wind-shaken autumn leaves. Revenge bled, "Shoot the man, let the moose go!" Fame, the long-cherished mistress of the lonely hunter, whispered, "Kill the moose first—then the man. A moose can run faster than a man!"

The trembling barrel of the old muzzle-loader swayed to and fro. The spots blazed redder and fiercer in the marble cheeks of the hunter. Suddenly the white moose turned broadside—and a sheet of flame shot forth from the calling-rock. The moose sprang forward, then stumbled, and fell in a quivering heap amidst the hard-hack.

At the sound of the rifle's crack Gaspard Langlois raised his eyes in terror to the great rock. Peter had leaped to his feet and with frantic haste was pouring a fresh charge of powder into the long barrel of his rifle. By a subtle divination Gaspard recognized the man he wronged, and knew the meaning of Peter's deadly haste. That handful of sliding, tinkling powder was for him!

Gaspard Langlois dropped the pack from his back and fled toward the lake and the forest beyond. Like a snipe, flushed from a tussock or clump of reeds, he twisted and zigzagged in his flight, that the bullet might perchance speed by him to left or right, and bury itself in the oozy marsh. Peter worked himself up to the highest pinnacle of the rock, all the while driving home the patched bullet in the long rifle barrel. He soiled with fierce haste, but with deadly sureness. Not a motion was wasted.

All ready now, save the little copper cap to slip over the nipple! Peter fetched it out of his buckskin pocket with a swift motion of thumb and finger; but just as he was fitting it to the nipple he raised his eyes for the fraction of a second to mark his victim's whereabouts. Gaspard was just dodging into the shadow of the woods! The cap slipped and went tinkling down the slope of rock. Peter sprang after it, dropped down upon his knees, caught the rolling bit of metal and crushed it down over the nipple of his gun. When he rose, with the rifle pressed hard against his shoulder, the vast barren lay desolate and deserted. Not a living figure was anywhere in sight. Peter had won the fame he craved—but one little slip of the hand had lost him revenge.

Mirror-Writing.
In a recent case of mirror-writing a boy of seven or eight wrote unusually well, but in this singular reversed style and some months later, after acquiring the normal method of writing, would return to his original style on becoming fatigued. Dr. C. D. Jones, of Boston in reporting the case, states that the anomaly seems to be more common in England than in America. In one group of 451 the percentage of mirror-writers was 5.1, but in many reported instances the specimens have proven to be merely those of poor penmanship. Various explanations of the peculiarity have been offered. It seems to be most common with mental disease, but has been observed in persons of normal mental capacity, and one explanation is that it is due to left-handedness and some preponderating influence of the left brain.

Athletics Injurious to Women

By PRESIDENT ELIOT,
Of Harvard University.

IT IS evident to my mind, convinced as it is by observation and the records of athletics as far as they concern women, that the weaker sex cannot indulge very much in athletics without injuring themselves seriously and permanently. I do not believe that boating, putting the shot and other similar violent forms of exertion are safe or proper for women to indulge in.

Women will never compete with the men's colleges in athletics. I see absolutely no possibility of that ever taking place. Women do not seek the competition, and it would be of no benefit to them.

Women were not originally intended for such violent exercises as man, and some things they go into must strain them. For a woman to put the shot is preposterous. There may be women living who are made in such a strange, unnatural way that it is not injurious for them to put the shot, but for the majority of women it would be enough to hurt them for life.

Boating also is bad for women. Women's colleges do not have crews to any great extent, but the women who do go into boating will not last long in their athletic life. Women's athletics are a good thing in moderation, but for them to try to do all that their brothers do is a mistake. They can never attain to what the men are doing and will only hurt themselves in the attempt.

BAR SHOOTING FOR SWANS.

One Method of Gunning for the Swift-est Flying Birds in the World.

The true bar-shot, the uncompromising aristocrat of duck shooters, is pleased to disdain decoy shooting. Sadly he spends morning after morning in the "box," preferring the memories of ancient glory and a wild shot or two at black ducks or swan or geese to the comparatively fair and easy success of decoy work. Perhaps two or three times in a season, if he keeps at it, there will come a real taste of the old splendor, says Country Life in America.

The bar is a very long, narrow spit of sandy beach and marsh, stretching out for a mile between the river and the bay. The ducks, geese and swan, in trading from the river to the bay and from the bay to the river, find it easier in most winds to cross the bar rather than laboriously fly around it. From their height its 50 yards of width looks like a mere ribbon between the broad waters; with an extra spurt of speed and a few yards more altitude they swing across and above with the speed of a tornado.

Crossing as they do in mid flight, with an acceleration of speed instead of the slowing up of decoyed birds, the bar flying gives the task of hitting the most rapidly moving objects known to the shooting world. This would not be an insurmountable obstacle for quick eyes and steady nerves, but there is one peculiarity of this shooting that makes it at once fascinating and maddening to the best of shots who have not found the secret.

Your duck, goose or swan is flying, say 100 miles an hour. He is 60 yards in the air when he crosses. Taking the velocity of the shot at 1,300 feet per second, the shot will take something like one-seventh of a second to go the sixty yards, and in that time the great bird will have rushed through the air a distance of about 20 feet. In other words, if your swan hunter shoots at a point some 20 feet ahead of the bird, the swan will fly into the shot.

What the bar-shot really does is to throw up his big gun just before the birds come to be perpendicularly over him, follow them just to the perpendicular with gun held on them to get the line, and then shove the weapon away ahead of the hurtling targets, pulling the trigger while the gun is moving. How to do this puzzling trick so as to establish the necessary connection comes to be an instinctive matter with the elect. Many, even the quickest and deadliest of field shots, simply cannot learn it, the masters in shooting "rise" on a swift rank of fowl sweeping below the clouds, and cut a single bird out of the ghostly whirl overhead! So mighty is the tension of nerves and wing-muscles in these fights that the struck birds keep far on in their rush even when theoretically killed, some times for a quarter of a mile.

Castle Homage.
On his second voyage across the Atlantic, in 1493, Christopher Columbus sailed further south than in his former venture, first sighting land at Dominica in the Lesser Antilles, thence coasting the chain until he arrived at his point of departure of the year before, on the north coast of Santo Domingo, where he laid the foundation for a settlement which he called "Isabella," after the queen of Spain. Local tradition points out an ancient castle near the river's mouth known as the "Homage," in which it is stated Christopher Columbus was confined in chains, previous to being sent to Spain in the year 1500. But the truth is that this castle, ancient as it is, was not built until 1503, long after the historic event took place, though it is indeed the oldest structure of its kind in America.—From "Santo Domingo," by Frederick A. Ober, in Four-Track News.

Cheap Electricity.
Of his new invention for the cheap production of electricity Mr. Edison says: "You can wire your house for anything that electricity will do, and the batteries in your automobile will operate the plant. The cost? It is so trifling after you are provided with your plant that it is not worth mentioning. The fuel used in this machine is one that has never before been used for fuel under these conditions."

For Perfumery.
The Scilly Islands produce yearly 700 tons of flowers for perfume making.

THE ANGRY TREE.

Species of Aescina Found in Idaho
That Seems to Possess Animal Instincts.

There has been discovered in the wilds of northwestern Idaho a species of the acacia tree, which is entitled to be classed as one of the wonders of plant life. It grows to a height of about eight feet, says an exchange, and when fullgrown closes its leaves together in coils each day at sunset and curls its twigs to the shape of pig tails. After the tree has settled itself thus for a night's sleep, if touched the whole thing will flutter as if agitated or impatient at being disturbed. The oftener the foliage is molested the more violent becomes the shaking of the branches, and at length the tree emits a nauseating odor, which, if inhaled for a few moments, causes a violent, dizzy headache.

The angry tree, it has been named, was discovered by travelers who, upon making camp for the night, placed one end of a canvas covering over one of the sensitive bushes, using it for a support. Immediately the tree began to sharply jerk its branches. The motion continued, growing more nervous, until at last the sickening odor which it gave out drove the tired campers to a more friendly location. Curiosity of course, prompted an investigation. One of the angry trees was dug up and thrown to one side. Immediately upon being removed from the ground, the tree opened its leaves, its twigs lost their pig tails, and for something over an hour and a half the outraged branches showed their indignation by a series of quaking, which grew weaker as the time passed, finally ceasing altogether, when the foliage hung limp and withered. The next morning the tree was placed upright in the ground again, a little water was applied to the roots, and very soon it resumed its normal condition.

DISARMING THE GODS.

The Preparation of Japanese, Chinese and Hindoo Boys for Their School Life.

Among the eastern nations the beginning of school life is a critical time for the child, says Everybody's Magazine. The priest or astrologer must be consulted to choose a lucky day. Every precaution must be taken to avert the jealousy of the gods, whose malice is especially directed against a fine boy.

The Chinese father who adores his son will take the utmost pains to convince the powers of the air that the boy is of no account. The child may be given a despicable name, like flea, or Chu-tze, a pig, or more insulting still, he may be given a girl's name. The boy may be started off to school wearing a girl's dress and one earring and if the deception is complete this will be the most effectual of all, for even the gods do not care for girls in China.

The Japanese schoolboy wears hanging from his belt a little red bag, containing a brass tag, with his name and his parent's name and address upon it. He must have his paper umbrella and fan, and in a gay bag upon his arm, is a jar of rice for his luncheon. This quaint little fellow has probably made his offering at his own private shrine to Tenjin, the god of penmanship.

When the Hindoo boy has found an auspicious day to begin school, he is taken to the god of learning, Sarasvati. Here the little suppliant presents his offerings of rice and betelnuts, and repeats the letters of the alphabet after the priest. Thus he is entered into the ways of knowledge in the very presence of the god.

NEBRASKA
THE LAND
OF PLENTY

I wonder why it is that so many men spend their days working hard on rented farms, barely making enough to get along, with no great prospect ahead of owning their own homes, when within a few hours' journey is a land of plenty—Nebraska—where all kinds of grain and fruit can be raised with the least amount of labor; where cattle and hogs fed on corn bring a handsome profit; where the climate is healthful and churches and schools abound; where land is cheap and can be bought on very easy terms.

Think of this, and if you want information about the country send to me for "The Corn Belt," a beautifully illustrated monthly paper that tells all about Nebraska, and also for "The West Nebraska Grazing Country," an interesting illustrated booklet containing a large sectional map of Nebraska.

On the first and third Thursdays of each month during the balance of this year cheap excursion tickets will be sold over our road to Nebraska, so that people may go and see for themselves. Ask your ticket agent about this.

ENEMIES ALL RIGHT.

He Was Certain About That and He Took a Sly Shot at Them.

It is related that at a recent sham battle a young lieutenant, posted with his company behind a wall, ordered his men to fire at a detachment of troops who were marching by, says London Tit-Bits. The guns were loaded with blank cartridges, and no harm was done; but the detachment happened to be on the same side of the sham fight as the company which had fired at it.

The commanding officer came riding up. "Why did you fire at those men?" he demanded of the lieutenant, hotly.

"I supposed they were the enemy," said the lieutenant.

"And what led you to suppose they were the enemy?"

"Because my tailor was at the head of them and I saw my butcher in the ranks. What else could I suppose, sir?"

"Oh," said the minister, "I am surprised at you little boys, for when I was like you I never told a lie. There was a silence for awhile, until one of the boys shouted: 'Hand him up the dog!'"—Mount Olivet (Ky.) Democrat.

Home Life for Women

By REV. WILLIAM HENRY BURNS,
Prominent New York Divine.

HERE are women, I know, who look upon the family circle as too circumscribed a sphere. The tendency for several years has been for woman to enter vocations which have taken her out of the home and blunted the home instinct. With a realization of her powers for business and professional life has come an irresistible desire to enter those spheres of life where her abilities and talents would find their largest scope and possibilities.

I would not put a straw in a woman's way; I would allow her necessities and qualifications, not her sex, to a very large degree determine her vocation. And not only so, but I would give her a man's pay for a man's work. Why should the fact of sex influence the amount of wage?

But I am profoundly of the conviction that when the woman steps out of the home for any other place she takes a step downward. She is leaving a high calling and exalted destiny for that which is measured in gold and cold commercialism. She sells her birthright for a mess of the world's pottage. She lightly lays aside the divinely imposed obligations of home-maker and seeks to give scope to her energies and abilities in the business and professional world. But in the home is to be found woman's throne, and nowhere else. There she may rule like a queen. There she is crowned with grace and beauty, which softens with the years.

KENTUCKY BLUEGRASS.

Native of Wabash Valley, Indiana,
and Found by William Henry Harrison's Troops.

"I notice by the papers that somebody in the southern part of the state wants to know where bluegrass first started," said Prof. John Collett, ex-state geologist, to an Indianapolis Journal man. "A great many people contend that it was first found in Kentucky, but this is not so. Bluegrass is a native of the Wabash valley, in Indiana. It was found by William Henry Harrison's troops during that solemn march to Tippecanoe in 1811. Harrison gathered a small army at Ohio Falls and started north. At Vincennes the gallant heroes realized that they could not go 200 miles up the Wabash without feed for their horses. Gen. Harrison had two cribs of corn at Terre Haute, and persuaded the men to go on. As they came on with hungry horses and scant feed, they found the ground covered with bluegrass.

"Six miles west of Newport, on the Collet farm, was found a bountiful supply of bluegrass. Some places in the bottom it was growing three feet high, and such feed had never been heard of by the Kentucky soldier. At State Line City more bluegrass was found, and from there to Tippecanoe the whole line of march was covered with bluegrass.

"The seed was carried back to Kentucky and sown there, but they could not make it thrive alone in the warm soil, and it had to be sown with oats and rye. Mr. Sandusky, the father of the present family of that name, told me in an early day that no bluegrass grew in Kentucky until after it was imported from Indiana. Tom Downing, of Terre Haute, was an ardent admirer of Henry Clay, and once went to visit him at his home near Ashland, Ky. After seeing the fine farm well set in bluegrass, Downing suggested that Mr. Clay let him have some of the seed to take back to Indiana.

"Tom, don't make a fool of yourself," said Clay, "the grand sire of Kentucky bluegrass is growing around your house and in the fence corners of your fields. We got the seed from Terre Haute and the middle Wabash, and after a hard struggle got it to grow here in its present luxuriousness."

It is disheartening to listen to an expert fisherman talking salmon. He will start off with "sockeyes" and land you in a labyrinth of queer phrases. The full-grown fish is the salmon. On its second return from the sea it is a gerling, and on its first return a botcher. Under five pounds it is a grilse, and under two is salmon-pearl. From one or two years before it has gone to sea it is a parr, pink, smolt, smelt, salmon-fry, spragg, salmon-spring, samlet, brandling, fingerling, black-fin, shed, skegger, graveling, hepper, laspring, gravel-laspring, skelting or sparring. And, as if those names were not enough, we have the milt, summer-cock, big-fish, simen, etc. A salmon which remains in fresh water during the summer, without going to sea, is a laurel. After spawning this fish is a kelt, or slat. A male is a kipper, a female a shedder, or baggit. The list might be extended indefinitely.—N. Y. Press.

Royal Oak of Epiphany.

This remarkable tree is so large that a hall has been built in it which will hold more than 400 people at one time. It's age, too, is very great, scientists agreeing that it must have been growing for several hundred years. At the top are four small cannon, from which shots are fired on holidays or solemn occasions. The man who is responsible for the scheme has taken out a patent for it on the ground that it is an institution for the fresh air cure.

The Nervy Boarder.

"She makes so much of a little thing," remarked the wise guy.

"Our landlady?" asked the philosopher, glancing toward the kitchen where she had gone. "Why, I never considered her a gossip."

"He doesn't refer to gossip," retorted the nervy boarder; "he's talking about the ten-ounce beefsteak which appears as hash for seven consecutive mornings."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Significant.

A woman's silence is more significant than a man's words.

DRUG CLERK'S EXPERIENCE.

How He Proved That He Had Not Given Poison to the Child of a Customer.

"Speaking of troubles in a drug store," said the clerk behind the prescription counter, according to the New York Times, "I had a brand new experience recently that would have landed me in a scrape if it hadn't been for a little presence of mind.

"One of our women customers had a little boy who had been ill for some time and for whom we prepared medicines whenever the physician left his prescription. The ingredients ordered were harmless enough, and certainly contained nothing to cause death by poisoning. But one afternoon as the store was chock-full of customers the mother, greatly excited and almost beside herself, burst into the place, and in a high, shrill voice broke into hysterics and accused me of having poisoned her boy.

"Between sobs we could understand that the woman had given the youngster the medicine and the poor little fellow had turned his face to the wall, and a half hour later was found dead. The unfortunate woman declared some acute poison had been put into the medicine by mistake and that she would have me arrested for murder.

"For a time it was impossible to reason with her, but little by little she began to come around under the effect of stimulants and then she repeated her story.

"Madam," I said, "that medicine was absolutely harmless. The prescriptions called for no drug that is poisonous, and I put it up myself and know perfectly well what I am talking about. You have no right to make an accusation of this sort before you are sure of your ground. And then an inspiration struck me. 'Where is the bottle with the medicine that killed your little son?' I asked.

"She drew it from under her shawl, where she had clutched it with a vise-like grip and mechanically she handed it to me. I pulled the cork and smelled of the medicine and held it up to the light, and then, without hesitation, drained the contents to the last drop.

"Now, I suppose, you will believe that I considered the medicine harmless," I said, and handed back the bottle. She stood rooted in one spot and looked at me as if she expected to see me topple over, and then the light of reason came back to her eyes and she became more calm. I led her to the door and sent a young man to see her safely to her home, and I think I made the most brilliant coup that ever happened to saved the reputation and standing of a druggist.

"But I often thought since what a dreadful awakening it must be to a man when he is justly accused of having killed another by mistake. The situation never came before me so vividly, and the other night when I had the nightmare I went through that same experience and awoke in a cold sweat. Ticklish business is the druggist's business, sometimes."

Precautions to Evade Grip.

"The so-called epidemics of grip which usually appear every winter," said a well-known physician, "are more imaginary than real. Although this troublesome disease has never yet reached the dimensions of an epidemic, it shows a marked increase immediately after a fall of snow. This is entirely due to peculiar atmospheric conditions, which follow a snowfall, and which affect the bronchial system in such a way as to bring about the unpleasant grip. After an unusually severe snowstorm, a number of years ago, I had as many as 80 calls a day, all pure cases of the grip. It is this day after the snowfall that one must take the necessary precautions to evade the disease."—Philadelphia Record.

A Hasty Query.

"Why don't you keep journeying onward and upward?" said the earnest patriot. "Why don't you let your motto be 'Excelsior!'"

"Hadn't thought of it," answered Senator Slocum, "is there an excelsior trust?"—Washington Star.

Object of Suspicion.

Mabel (who has spent the summer in the Green mountains)—Papa, does Mr. Bjackson come from Vermont?

Papa—Yes, dear.

"Then why doesn't he say 'b'gosh!'"—Somerville Journal.

WHILE HE WAS WORKING.

The Barber Regaled His Victim with an Illustrative Instance of Ignorance.

The barber tucked a towel under a customer's chin and then cleared his throat, relates the Philadelphia Press. On "A victim," I mean a customer of mine," he began, "told me a story the other day which illustrates to my mind, at least, that some men really don't know the difference between patent medicine and Schuylkill water. 'It was this way:'

"This customer of mine had a friend who had a great deal of trouble with his hair. It was all the time falling out. He asked all his friends what he could get to keep it in. Most of them suggested that he get a basket, but finally one of them told him of a patent medicine.

"So the man whose hair was bothering him got a bottle of the medicine and discovered that it was a dark brown sticky stuff that he was to rub on his hair five times a day. He tried it the first day, and it appeared to do good, but the second day some one got there first, and emptied the bottle of medicine, filled it up with sawdust. And all day long that poor man rubbed the sawdust on his hair and never noticed the difference. But he did notice, though, that there was an unusually large number of flies swarming about his head. Day run?"

Needed Not the Country.

"And do none of you know anything about the country?" asked the teacher, sadly.

"Oh, yes, ma'am. I know," said Eva Gonorowsky. "The country is the Fresh Air Fund."

"Then you've been there," cried Miss Bailey. "Tell us about it, Eva."

"No, ma'am. I ain't seen it," said Eva, proudly. "I'm healthy."—McClure's.

Dr. Williamson Swears.

Yorktown, Ark., Jan. 15th.—Last week a statement was published from Leland Williamson, M. D., of this place, to the effect that Dodd's Kidney Pills are the best medicine for all kidney diseases and that he uses them with uniform success in his daily practice.

No one who knows Dr. Williamson will doubt for a moment the complete truth of his fearless declaration, but to completely clinch the matter in the minds of those who may not have the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with this celebrated physician, Dr. Williamson has appeared before Mr. H. E. Greene, J. P. for Montgomery county, and made a sworn statement.

In this sworn statement the doctor has cited a number of cases which have been completely cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills. Here is case No. 1:

Henry Hall, 57, age 48, an American, attacked with Malaria, Haematuria or Swamp Fever, temperature ranged from 101 to 105, highly coated tongue, constipated bowels, hemorrhage or passage of blood from kidneys, used ichthyol and Dodd's Kidney Pills to relieve the inflammation and congested condition of kidneys and to render the urine bland and non-irritating. Recovery complete after two months' treatment of the Pills.

Was Given Up BY THE DOCTORS. Pe-ru-na Saved Her Life.

[It was catarrh of the lungs so common in the winter months.]

MISS JENNIE DRISCOLL

Miss Jennie Driscoll, 870 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"If people knew how efficient Peruna was in the cure of catarrh, they would not hesitate to try it. I have all the faith in the world in it as it cured me, and I have never known of a case when the person was not cured in a short time."—Jennie Driscoll.

Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham, Treasurer Daughters of the Confederacy and President Herndon Village Improvement Society, writes the following letter from Herndon, Fairfax Co., Va.:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio:

Gentlemen:—I cannot speak too highly of the value of Peruna. I believe that I owe my life to its wonderful merits. I suffered with catarrh of the head and lungs in its worst form, until the doctors fairly gave me up, and I despaired of ever getting well again.

"I noticed your advertisement and the splendid testimonials given by the people who had been cured by Peruna, and determined to try a bottle. I felt but little better, but used a second and third bottle and kept on improving slowly.

"It took six bottles to cure me, but they were worth a King's ransom to me. I talk Peruna to all my friends and am a true believer in its worth."—Mrs. Col. E. J. Gresham.

A PLAIN TALK

On a Plain Subject in Plain Language.

The coming winter will cause at least one-half of the women to have catarrh, colds, coughs, pneumonia or consumption. Thousands of women will lose their lives and tens of thousands will acquire some chronic ailment from which they will never recover.

Unless you take the necessary precautions, the chances are that you (who read this) will be one of the unfortunate ones. Little or no risk need be run if Peruna is kept in the house and at the first appearance of any symptom of catarrh taken as directed on the bottle.

Peruna is a safeguard, is a preventative, a specific, is a cure for all cases of catarrh, acute and chronic, coughs, colds, consumption, etc.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

BOURBON CIRCUIT COURT.
F. M. HURST'S WIDOW AND HEIRS ON PETITION.

NOTICE OF SALE.

The undersigned Special Commissioner in the above styled proceeding will, on the premises to be sold, on Wednesday, Feb. 3, 1904,

about the hour of 11 a. m., expose to public sale the following real estate, located in Bourbon County, Kentucky, near the town of Millersburg, to-wit:

Tract No. 1, being the home place of deceased, bounded as follows: Beginning at stake No. 1, corner to Annie C. Barnes, and running S 41° 14' W 64.41 poles to stake No. 2, at a branch in John W. Bedford's line; thence with his line S 40° 14' E 81.1 poles to No. 2, corner to Bedford and Walker's line; thence running with said Walker's line S 55° E 68.49 poles to No. 4, a stake in the north-east bank of the branch corner to said Barnes; thence N 54° 14' W 29.01 poles to the beginning, containing thirteen and a half acres; also a strip of ground beginning at Louis Anderson's water-gap and extending along his line to the line of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, fifteen feet in width throughout to said railroad.

Tract No. 2 bounded by said railroad, by the lot of Louis Anderson, by the Maysville and Lexington turnpike, and by the lot of Amanda Batson, reserving in favor of the owner of lot No. 1, and in favor of Annie L. Barnes an open passway over the last named parcel of land, which passway is not to be obstructed by any gate or other obstruction from the railroad aforesaid to said turnpike, said passway now being planked. Tract No. 3 also embraces an additional parcel of ground described as follows: Beginning with corner on Maysville and Lexington pike between F. M. Hurst and John A. Gorman and Luna B. Gorman; thence North eighteen feet with said pike; thence west to the Maysville branch of the L. & N. Railroad; thence south with said railroad seven feet to the corner of F. M. Hurst and Jno. A. and Luna B. Gorman; thence east to the place of beginning.

Tract No. 1 has thereon a comfortable frame dwelling house of eight rooms etc., two porches, a stable, carriage and buggy house, workshop, granary and various other out-buildings, all in good condition; tract No. 2 has two buildings thereon.

This property is located about half a mile from Millersburg, on the Lexington and Maysville turnpike and the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, convenient to the postoffice, depot, churches, schools, etc.

The property will be offered in the two tracts above indicated and then as a whole, and the bid or bids aggregating the most money will be accepted.

Terms.—The property will be sold upon credits of six and twelve months for equal parts of the purchase money, the purchaser to execute bonds with good surety, to be approved by the undersigned, payable to the undersigned, and bearing 6 per cent interest from date of sale.

A. C. BALL,
Special Commissioner.
McMILLIAN & TALBOT, ATT'YS.

"Do It To-Day."

The time-worn injunction, "Never put off 'til to-morrow what you can do to-day," is now generally presented in this form: "Do it to-day!" That is the terse advice we want to give you about that hacking cough or demolishing cold with which you have been struggling for several days, perhaps weeks. Take some reliable remedy for it to-day—and let that remedy be Dr. Boschree's German Syrup, which has been in use for over thirty-five years. A few doses of it will undoubtedly relieve your cough or cold, and its continued use for a few days will cure you completely. No matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble. New trial bottles, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.—W. T. Brooks.
